N- Never Use physical force on your child

O- Offer your help whenever it's needed

P- Praise your child for achievements as well as for efforts

Q- Quickly stop your child from harmful activities.

R- Read together often and make reading fun.

S- Show patience and remember nobody is perfect

T- Teach health and safety rules.

U- Use every opportunity to show your love.

V- Value your child's thoughts and opinion.

W- Wait until you cool down before disciplining your child.

X- Xerox and save records of your child's achievements.

Y- You can make a difference in your child's life....so parent with pride.

Z- Zoom over this ABC again and again.

Parenting is Labor of Love The sleepless nights, the career sacrifices, the postponing of your so many activities. The prize of parenting comes at a price.

Parenting is Enjoying Smiling together, singing songs, playing together with your child.....are most enjoyable moments of life.

Practically, Parenting is..... • Meeting the child's needs to age of 18 or sometimes longer. • Guiding the child toward the goal of becoming a competent adult.

Parenting from the Heart

Parenting is a gift of God

Parenting is Gardening. The Universe blossoms in the face of your child.

By bringing out the best in your child, you bring out the best in this universe

Slice and Smile

-MRS. K. MEENA VENKATESH IC-

"We are What we repeatedly do.

Excellence, then is not an act, but a habit "

We are creatures of habit. Our day to day activities become our habit. Our habits become our character .Hence we should inculcate good habits in our life.

Good habits create virtues .A person with good habits builds his or her life on the strongest foundation. On the other hand ,with bad habits come idleness, loss of capacity to work hard and so on.

Most of the school-going children struggle to manage their time when they struggle to plan and prioritize, they fail miserably in getting tasks completed in a time-bound manner. As a result some of the task at hand won't get completed,which in turn cause stress in them .

On the other hand , Some children simply get tensed feeling that there is no sufficient time to finish their tasks. They waste a lot of time in this manner also. This can be termed as "no-time syndrome".

Inability to manage time and no-time syndrome can be addressed by the approach called "Swiss Cheese " Swiss Cheese Approach is a recommended way to overcome the temptation or tendency to postpone the tasks.

The Swiss Cheese Approach advocates finding out and utilizing small pieces of time-slots to complete a smaller frame of the large matter.

It means Instead of waiting to get a full block of time to complete the tasks, by punching a hole we will be able to take a portion for successful completion .

When children have a project or assignment which takes one or two hours, they need to slice it into smaller frames. As and when they get even ten minutes they can utilize it to tackle a portion of the given task instead of waiting for a bigger amount of time.

By encouraging children to follow this approach you can help them defeat the tendency of procrastination. Parents and Teachers can train children using this tool effectively.

Let's make our young buds bloom with smile and confidence.

Let's inculcate this good habit in their lives.

The way you think is the key to everything .

What you focus on persists and grows. Hence always think that you are the most responsible person born to achieve big things in your life. So LET'S TRAIN AND WALK THAT EXTRA MILE!!!

AN INSPIRING STORY

The Value of Money

At the beginning of a new school year, a class teacher stands up in front of her students holding a RS.100 bill.

She tells them, "Put your hands up if you want this money".

Every hand in the room goes up, to which the teacher says, "I am going to give this money to someone here, but first, let me do this..."

She takes the bill and crumples it up in her hands, before asking, "Who still wants it?"

The hands stay up.

The teacher then drops the bill on the floor, stomps and grinds it into the ground, and picks it back up. "How about now?" she asks again.

The hands stay up.

"Class, I hope you see the lesson here. It didn't matter what I did to this money, you still wanted it because its value stayed the same. Even with its creases and dirtiness, it's still worth RS.100."

She continues, "It's the same with us. There will be similar times in your life when you're dropped, bruised, and muddled. Yet no matter what happens, you never lose your value."

Moral of the story:

Life's hardships are inevitable and we'll all be put through the ringer at some point, often through no fault of our own.

Don't let these challenges alter your feelings of self-worth. You'll always be enough; you have something unique and special to give and offer the world.

A PASSIONATE VISIONARY

REWRITING THE LAWS OF NATURE

Albert Einstein is perhaps the most famous scientist of the 20th century. The prized physicist had a profound impact on our understanding of the universe, including basic concepts such as time, light and gravity.

Born in Germany in 1879, Einstein was slightly different than all the boys. His head was a little bigger and he hardly spoke a word, which led at least one housekeeper to label him "retarded." Little did she know, this "retarded" boy would eventually go on to reshape the world through his ideas.

By age 26, Einstein had obtained his PhD. The same year he published 4 important papers on topics ranging from the nature of light to mass-energy equivalence. While largely ignored at first, these papers would eventually make a tremendous contribution to the scientific community, including the famous $E=MC^2$ equation for mass energy equivalence.

These papers also contained the seeds of Einstein's Theory of Relativity, one of the most revolutionary ideas in history. Although it's impossible to pinpoint exactly the nature of Einstein's brilliance, he had all of the characteristics of a genius.

He had a vivid imagination, questioned everything and found new ways of thinking about old problems. He also had an unrelenting work ethic that pushed him to action even on the day of his death, where he was reportedly working on a speech for a television program. The final picture of Einstein's office taken hours before his passing showed a man who was deeply consumed in his work right up until the very end.

In addition to his timeless quotes and deep sense of humour, Einstein is remembered for overcoming adversity. From physical setbacks as a young boy to spending two frustrating years looking for work as a teaching assistant after graduating, Einstein's life was filled with challenges.

His ability to keep a positive attitude and provoke creative thought experiments were at the centre of his genius. More than 60 years after his death, the world remembers not a man who spent years working at a patent office, but a man who changed the world.

Tamilians and their Hospitality-

Ms. J S POOJA STD X -First PRIZE WINNER – Thiruvalluvar Competition English Essay Writing

Introduction: Tamilnadu is one of the oldest civilization and extremely rich in culture and heritage. We tamilians like to take much pride in our rooted Tamil culture and make efforts to protect their 2000 year old history. The important aspect in our Tamil culture in hospitality. Even in the tamilians divine book, Thirrukural, we have a separate part named hospitality.

Hospitality: Hospitality is simply and opportunity to show love and care. Hospitality is and act of welcoming our guests with a warming smile and satisfying food. A hospitable man is not just the relatives and friends in some cases it is strangers also. The word hospitality is the testament comes from 2 greek words first word meaning “love” and the second word meaning “Strangers” denoting “love for strangers”.

Aspect of hospitality in Tamil culture:

Sharing is the key aspect of hospitality in tamil culture. As tamilians we are familiar with the phrase “jdpj;J cz;zhik” In purananuru, Peruvaluthi renounced that “ There are people who don’t take anything alone even the ambrosia from the God”. Here the people refers to the tamilians and their hospitality. The behaviour and expression to the hospitable man is another one important aspect. In thirukural there ia a famous say “ As the anicham flower fades away in smelling its fragrances, So the guest heart fades when the host conveys a cold welcome”. But the tamilians never failed in both aspects and protects the dignity of tamil culture.

Tamils and their hospitality in those days:

Tamils in those days built a shine in front of the house for the passer-by to sit down and take rest. The people in the house treat the passerby by care and love. In those days, Our ancestors spent the portion of their money on activities such as helping others and feeding others. This act shown the high character of tamilians, hospitality and culture. Tamils introduced many cultures to the world one of them is hospitality. Tamilians considered hospitality part and art of life.

Hospitality in tamil culture in these days:

For the act of hospitality we not only need money we also need the willingness to share and care. In these days in most of the urban areas we are not ready to accept any strangers as our guest. We don’t have any shrines in front of our home. Only sign boards denoting “Tresspassers not allowed” and “Beware of dogs”. In Rural areas there are still some acts of hospitality. This shows still they protect the tamil culture.

Conclusions:

Hospitality is a important aspect of Tamil culture. It should be protected by us. Our culture should las long for years and years. It’s our duty to save our culture by our hospitality.

2nd & 3rd PRIZE –WINNERS THIRUVALLUVAR COMPETITION- ENGLISH ESSAY WRITING

THE TAMILIAN HOSPITALITY

Ms. G.V. KIRUTHIKA STD X- 2nd PRIZE

Introduction:-

Hospitality is the art of welcoming guests to their homes and treating them well as if they were members of their family. Hospitality and the methods of showing hospitality varies from one culture to another.

Hospitality in Tamilians:-

Among every culture's hospitality, Tamilians's love towards offering hospitality is considered to be the best of all.

In ancient society, refusing to treat a guest was considered to be a sin. On those days, people always done their best in expressing their hospitality, they never refused to treat their guest inspite of their poverty or any other problems. By these actions we tamilians always show that we are sons of our mother earth one who never treats someone badly.

Hospitality in Literatures:

Our tamil literatures like Thirukkural, Periya puranam, Kamba ramayanam has also proved Tamilian's love for offering hospitality and the importance of hospitality in one's life.

Author Ilango in his book "Silapathigaram" illustrates that Kannagi felt bad that she was not able to treat her guests properly. Sita of Kamba Ramayana also felt the same when she wasn't able to treat her guests properly.

Thiruvalluvar has also stated that

" There are people who choose to be poor by not welcoming the guest; and there are people who choose to be rich though they are poor by treating their guests".

There are a lot more kurals and literatures which showcase the hospitality of Tamilians . The great thirukkural says,

" Even the nectar of immortality is not to be consumed without sharing with the guests outside".

It's a pride that we are Tamils. The language which has a beautiful and legendary culture of offering hospitality to their unknown friends.

Conclusion:-

So Born into such a proud race, we must be proud of our culture and should do our best in offering hospitality.

"THE BEST WAY TO FIND YOURSELF IS TO LOSE YOURSELF IN THE SERVICE OF OTHERS"

Tamilians and their Hospitality

R. JANANISRI Std XI A - 3rd Prize

Hospitality is nothing, looking after towards guests. Hospitality is present in all the cultures of India and hence it's a pan Indian thing. The way of hospitality may change but the concept of looking toward guests and welcoming them is same and a part of Indian culture. Aththi Devo Dhavah

In Tamil culture hospitality includes the way one treats a guest. By hospitality, even a foe can become a friend. There is a saying in Tamil – "The biggest misery or poverty in this world is when one cannot welcome his guests properly". So hospitality is very important concept in Indian culture.

Virundu means feast in Tamil and ombal means hospitality, thus Virudhombal means hospitality shown towards our guests. Hospitality can be both official welcoming or of a surprise one. In official welcoming first you invite your guest either through word or by invitation. Normally inviting a person through word is the best form and the first step of hospitality you show towards your guests.

Invitations can either be for a get together, marriage functions, or inviting for a festival like Pongal, Deepavali. Whether guests arrive or not, your home should always to ready to welcome guests. Sometimes relatives or guests may give a surprise visit. That's why the reason for 365 days of a year, kolam or rangoli is drawn in front of homes by women during every morning before 8.

The next step of hospitality involves welcoming them with the word "Vanakkam" along with a smile. Vanakkam means bowing down to your soul just like namaskaram in other languages. The next step of hospitality is colling your guests to come inside and making them sit down as they would have travelled for long. The most important way of greeting your guests is to provide them with a glass of water.

The next of hospitality includes having a conversation with your guests. They should not feel left out. Normally beverages like coffee and tea are provided only in evening time. Guests should always accept the offering from them if they ignored that these leads to create cracks with relations that can't be plastered. The main part of hospitality is the feast. It includes the delicacies on a Banana leaf. Normally a Tamil feast should contain 18 food item of this 18, half of these dishes should be prepared with vegetables.

Tamilnadu region grows a lot of vegetables and these vegetables dishes should contain poriyal and kootu and it should server towards the opposite side of your plantain leaf. The other items Rice, Sweet on other side.

Along with feast, Betel nuts are given for chewing. When one gets satisfied by the feast 75% of your hospitality is over. After this feast, guests are gifted with gifts. The traditional gift that is given to guests are Tamboolam.

The east step includes a lovely send off and guests are allowed to tell as "I will be back". "I will see you soon and I will come back".

INSPIRING YOUNG ACTIVIST

GRETA THUNBERG

The Swedish teenager created history by fearlessly voicing her disapproval at the lack of importance given to environmental issues and climate change, organising school climate strikes which culminated to an influential international movement known as 'Fridays for Future'. Starting at the impressionable age of 15, Thunberg has left an indelible mark in international communities, going on to address various climate change conferences and summits in the United Nations and successfully establishing herself as an international environment activist. Thunberg has been awarded with multiple honours for her contribution to the activist communities, becoming the youngest ever Time Person of the Year and nominations for the Nobel Peace Prize for three consecutive times.

OUR School POLYGLOT

Ms. Divyavikashini Gr XI C

Meet Divyavikasini of our school, a polyglot in her own right. She already knows several languages and she continues to learn more . Some of the languages she knows are, Tamil, English, French, German, Korean and Japanese. She is a great inspiration to all of us. She has already started preparing to crack the IAS when her time comes. We wish all the very best to happen in her life and career.
